Each of the deck plans of the Azamara Quest cruise ships are conveniently combined with a legend (showing cabin codes) and a detailed review of all deck locations and covered and outdoor areas accessible to passengers. A separate link provides extensive information about Azamara Quest cabins (cabins and suites), including photos, cabin plans and services by room type and category. Azamara Quest (built in 2000, acquired in 2007, recently renovated 2016) is the second of three Azamara cruisers of the same class R, along with fellow fleeters Azamara Journey and Azamara Pursuit. The ship was built for Renaissance cruise lines under the name R Seven (2000 to 2003). It was later operated by the Delphin Seereisen line as Delphin Renaissance (between 2003 and 2006). He then joined Pullmantur Cruises' fleet as Blue Moon (from 2006 to 2007, when he joined Azamara's fleet). This class (same as the design) also belongs the following ships in the Oceania fleets (Insignia, Nautical, Regatta, Mermaid) and Princess (Pacific Princess.Azamara Quest cruise deck plan has a total of 355 cabins for 686 passengers (maximum capacity is 781 people), served by 410 crew/staff. The boat has 9 passenger decks, 4 restaurants, 5 lounges and bars, 2 swimming pools (one in the Spa), 2 jacuzzis, 4 elevators, launderette (Deck 7). There are no dedicated children or areas for teenagers (clubs, playrooms) or special programming. Occasionally, mainly during the summer or on holiday itineraries when there are 25 or children booked during the duration of the Royal Caribbean Cruise (RCI) provides the ship with a professional youth counselor. Azamara Cruises Quest is a luxury boat with all-inclusive rates. Prices for Azamara Club cruises include the following beverages and services (free throughout the trip): Alcohol (a selection of more than 30 standard spirits, including spirits, spirits, bourbons, vodkas, rums, gins, brandy, spirits), cocktails (a selection of 30 long drinks), beers (Budweiser, Bud Light, Beck's), boutique wines of local origin by the glass (1 red and 1 white each day throughout the trip), bottled water, soda/soft drinks, special coffees-teasStaff tipping (free)Room service (professional butler service for all suite passengers, and concierge service for lower grade accommodations)Self-service laundry (laundry room/Cover 7)Transportation transfers from/to send Azamara TV tv program on board, daily newsletter listing activities and events on board, and lounge programs. Azamara Quest's deck plan changes the 2016 renovation reviewThe ship's last dry clothesline renovation (April 1-22, made in Singapore) resulted in the following changes in the deck plan: The ship's old dark interior decoration (woods, carpets, upholstery) was changed with a lighter scheme with muted shades of beige, brown, grey, grayish, ecru (light greyish-yellow brown). Large touch screens were installed in various areas around the ship. They allow passengers (free) to send digital postcards, explore world atlas maps and also provide Azamara Cruises itineraries and call information ports. Two new Club Spa Suites were built on the site of the eConnections (computer room, located next to the port in Lido Deck 9). Also on Deck 9 was added The Patio (outdoor grill / barbecue restaurant). On Deck 10 was added The Living Room (forward-location observation room and bar, club disco) replacing the Looking Glass Hall.Many public areas were re-furnished (including Looking Glass, Patio Grill, Sunset Bar). Improvements and renovations received prime C, Aqualina, Windows Cafe (buffet) restaurants. The Sanctum Spa complex (formerly Astral Spa) was redesigned and expanded. All cottages and suites were renovated with new carpets and wall coverings, fabrics, furniture, shelves, curtains, luxury bedding sets (pillows, duvets), new lighting and flat TVs (interactive system). All cabins were upgraded with larger coffee tables. The bathrooms were redesigned to be more efficient in space. Quality wooden elements were used in all cabins. In addition, all high quality suites were updated with new modern furniture, dining tables, curtains, multimedia consoles and sound systems. There was a plan at Lido Deck's Sunset Bar (aft on Deck 9) to be replaced by a new specialty restaurant (called Kibo) with Asian-themed cuisine. However, the line later decided to keep the popular day bar and just to update it. Reform plans for the Asian plus an outdoor seating area for the Windows Cafe (buffet restaurant) were officially cancelled. Onboard Wi-Fi coverage will be updated to the entire ship (via the widespread Wi-Fi system). The new interactive TV system (in all booths) offers on-demand movies, live TV programming, onboard event schedules, weather updates, itinerary/port information. The system also allows the booking of shore excursions via TV, as well as room service the 2016 vine renovation project in 2016 cost $25 million.
